

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

The focus of the Evolution, Mind and Behaviour is upon the application of evolutionary theory to the human behavioural sciences. The editors and international editorial board are interested in theoretical and empirical submissions from scholars in all relevant disciplines, including psychology, anthropology, and human behavioural ecology.

Papers are accepted on the understanding that they have not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere and that they are subject to peer review. Papers accepted for publication by the editorial board are subject to editorial revision.

The Evolution, Mind and Behaviour is an Open Access journal. Authors of accepted manuscripts are requested to submit the signed License Agreement and pay the article processing charge on our APC website (more details to be found next page). Article processing will commence after the article processing fee has been remitted to the Publisher's account. (Please note that there is no peer review charge, the only applicable fee is the article processing fee for authors of accepted papers.)

Permissions. It is the responsibility of the author to obtain written permission for quotations, and for the reprinting of illustrations or tables.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts should be submitted electronically at www.edmgr.com/jep.

Manuscripts should be written in clear, concise, and grammatically correct English. The order should be as follows: title page, abstract, keywords, text, appendix, acknowledgements, notes, references, tables, figure captions.

Title page. The title should be concise and informative. A short running title of no more than 40 characters should also be supplied. This is followed by the initial(s) of first name(s) and surname of the author(s), and the name of the institution the author works at. The mailing address, e-mail address and fax number of the corresponding author must also be given in a footnote.

Abstract should not exceed 200 words.

Keywords should not exceed 10.

Text

Acknowledgement

Footnotes should only be used if absolutely necessary.

References in the text should follow the author-date format without comma. Where there are more than three authors, the name of the first author should be used, followed by et al. Publications by the same author(s) in the same year should be listed as e.g., 1999a, 1999b. List the references in chronological order in the text and in alphabetical order at the end of the paper. The style and punctuation of references should conform to that used in the journal. See the following examples:

Kramer, R. S. S., Gottwald, V. M., Dixon, T. A. M., & Ward, R. (2012). Different cues of personality and health from the face and gait of women. Evolutionary Psychology, 10, 271–295.

Geher, G., & Kaufman, S. B. (2012). Mating intelligence unleashed: The role of the mind in sex, dating, and love. Oxford University Press.

Kaplan, H. S., & Gangestad, S. W. (2005). Life history theory and evolutionary psychology. In: D. M. Buss (Ed.), The handbook of evolutionary psychology. New York: Wiley.

Tables. Each, bearing a title, should be self-explanatory. They should be mentioned in the text, numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals and placed on separate sheets at the end of the manuscript, following the References.

Figures should be submitted electronically in CDR files (drawings) and TIFF or PCX file (photographs). All figures (photographs, drawings, diagrams and charts) should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals and the approximate position should be indicated in the text. Colour figures will be placed for an extra fee. Each figure should have a caption.

Advertisements may be inserted at the rates of the Publisher.

Once your paper is accepted for publication in Evolution, Mind and Behaviour you will be requested to submit an Open Access License Agreement and pay the relevant article processing charge (APC) (or a discounted fee if applicable). In order to do so, please visit our website <https://apc.akademiai.com> where you can download the License agreement form, upload the completed one, and initiate payment of the APC. Article processing will commence after the amount due has been remitted to our account. (Please note that there are no submission or peer review charges, the only applicable fee is the article processing fee for authors of accepted papers.)

Open Access policy of Evolution, Mind and Behaviour includes the free and unrestricted self-archiving of the final published version of papers on the Author's webpage or on the Author's institutional repository with open or restricted access. When self-archiving or communicating a paper via e-mail, the Author should quote the correct citation and enclose a link to the published article ([https://doi.org/\[DOI of the Article without brackets\]](https://doi.org/[DOI of the Article without brackets])).

Advantages of the Open Access model:

- Increased readership without limitations.
- Readers will find the final, official version on a credible site.
- More accurate citations to the article in greater numbers.
- Copyright and publishing rights (other than the right of first publishing the paper) shall be retained by the author under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>) or the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International License (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>)
- Compliant with the requirements of research funds (NIH, Wellcome, OTKA, etc.)
